Private Home for Senior Ladies

Fulford Residence

Fulford is a unique residence that can accommodate 38 ladies. Fulford provides a high quality of service and a warm, loving environment, in both English and French. This private, not-for-profit residence is administered by a volunteer Board of Directors, with caring managers and staff. One of Fulford's many strengths is the extent of its volunteer support. Fulford is housed in a historic residence on Guy Street in the heart of downtown Montréal.

Bedrooms

Accommodation in individual rooms, with private or shared washrooms, allows residents to keep some favourite furnishings, paintings and family memorabilia. While residents are encouraged to participate in the many activities and events offered throughout the house, some ladies retire to their rooms to read, use their laptop or pursue a favourite hobby.

Dining

Fulford is known for excellent, nutritious and well-balanced meals. Ladies enjoy conversation with table mates and caregivers. Several times a year the members of the Board provide a special meal, or, in August, Breakfast on the Balcony. Residents enjoy the special treats provided on these occasions.

With generous contributions of time and resources, combined with its not-for-profit mandate, Fulford Residence is able to maintain a level of fees that is very competitive for the outstanding services and the quality of comfort and attention the ladies enjoy.

Respite Care

When a room is available, ladies who have undergone surgery, or require some form of rehabilitation, are welcomed for a period of recovery. They are welcomed as temporary residents with all the benefits of nursing care and activity that is provided to permanent residents.

Spiritual Life

Wednesday Church services are conducted by Anglican priests or Lay Readers, with musical accompaniment. A Catholic Mass is also celebrated once a month on Mondays.

On special occasions the Bishop of the Diocese visits to lead a service and share lunch in the Dining Room.
